“ Aunty I'm gonna miss everything about you. I know u in heaven smiling down. Uncle Babe is so happy to see you my Uncle Spanky greeted u with hugs and kisses and Granny is saying "Khaki girl u made it to heaven." The angles received u with love and oh I know u shouted a while when u received ur crown. Well Done Aunt Kahki. Well done. We will miss you but we find comfort in knowing u made it home.

“ Cacky was a person that no matter what she would greet you with a smile when gracing your presence. We had great fellowship right before she got sick. I came to Hollis to fellowship and it was only a few there that day. S few young ladies had fixed lunch and after church we sat down to eat and just have great conversation about life and other things. Cacky will be missed by so many. To her children this is not the end, continue serving Jesus and Faith and Obedience is what ensures that great reunion for all of us to see our loved ones. Find comfort knowing to you have family to talk to in the days to come and never forget Jesus is the Greatest comfort barer to have. Go to His Word also. Cacky made it over the hills of life and she didn't let anyone block her while doing her race. God Bless you all and never forget your mom and what she wanted you all to do with your life, Serve Jesus not man
